REMARKS – General

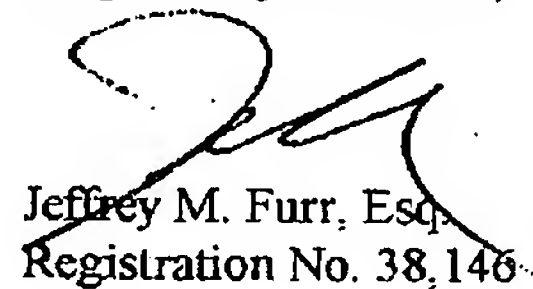

Also applicants have rewritten all claims to define the invention more particularly and distinctly so as to overcome the technical rejections and define the invention patentably over the prior art. The art and structure put forth is not disclosed in the cited art of Alvis (US 5,468,115) in view of Colt (US 4,578,014).

The current invention as laid out in the new claims is novel and non-obvious. It is a configuration that is more efficient and easier to use than the device described in Alvis as neither of them disclose a movable rack support base.

Conclusion

For all of the above reasons, applicant submits that the specification and claims are now in proper form, and that the claims all define patentably over prior art. Therefore the applicant submits that this application is now in condition for allowance, which action is respectfully solicited.

Respectfully submitted,
